

I've been working with Polish Hardwood Floors for over four years now. Before I met Greg I was always getting different floor-men to carry out jobs for me, and I was never satisfied. Either price wasn't right or the quality, there was always something. Since I started working with Greg my life got bit easier. Whenever I have project Involving hardwood floors I call him and he takes care of the rest. He's prices are always right and quality of work is exceptionally great. Above all he's the only person I worked with who stays within his time frame.

What I really like about him is that I can call him anytime of the day ask him any question about hardwood floors and he has the answer on the spot. He really knows what he's doing, and can be trusted with any project, big or small. He's the only hardwood floor professional I contact about anything and it will stay like that for a long time to come, because there is no one better than him.

I would strongly recommend him to anybody who is looking for quality at an affordable price, and has no time to deal with people who pretend to know what they are doing.
